PM inaugurates Solar Park, Peace Garden at UN

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA UNITED NATIONS

Prime Minister Narendra Modi, along with UN chief Antonio Guterres and other world leaders, inaugurated the Gandhi Solar Park and Gandhi Peace Garden at the headquarters of the global body, underlining that his principles act as a moral compass as the world grapples with challenges of climate change, terrorism and corruption.

Mr. Modi was joined by Korean President South Jae-in, Singapore Prime Minister Lee Hsien Loong, Bangladesh Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina, Jamaican Prime Minister Andrew Holness and New Zealand Prime Minister Jacinda Ardern in remotely inaugurating the 50-kW Gandhi Solar Park and the Gandhi Peace Garden at the UN Headquarters on Tuesday.

The special commemorative event "Leadership matters: relevance of Gandhi in the contemporary world" was hosted by Mr. Modi to mark Gandhiji's 150th birth anniversary. A special UN Postage stamp on Gandhiji's 150 birth anniversary was released.

The Gandhi Solar Park is a first of its kind symbolic Indian effort at the U.N. that highlights India's willingness to go beyond the talk on climate change and climate action.

At a contribution of about $1 million, India has gifted solar panels that have been installed on the roof of the U.N. Headquarters here, one panel each for every 193 U.N. member states.

The 'Gandhi Peace Garden' is an innovative initiative under which the Consulate-General of India in New York, Long Island-based NGO Shanti Fund and the State University of New York-Old Westbury have entered into an agreement to plant

It is a crowd-sourced project, with people adopting trees in the memory of their loved ones. The garden is in an open site within the 600acre campus of the university.

The solar panels are powered up to reach the maximum 50 kW of generation

Energy generated in the park is equivalent to energy that would have been created through the use of 30,000 kg of coal. It also has a carbon sequestration of 1,000 seedlings which will grow into trees over 10 years.

Mr. Modi said the values promoted by Gandhiji served as a moral compass for enlightened leadership.

Addressing the event, Mr. Guterres said, "Gandhiji's vision and philosophy are pillars of the work of the United Nations. Part of his genius lay in his ability to see the inter-connectedness and the unity between all things. His political achievements included leading the movement that ended colonial

Modi receives the Global Goalkeeper award by the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation for the mission

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Prime Minister Narendra Modi, honoured with the "Global Goalkeeper" award by the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation for the Swachh Bharat Abhiyan, has said the cleanliness campaign played a critical role in helping achieve UN goals and targets.

"Getting the award in the year of Mahatma Gandhi's 150th birth anniversary is personally significant for me. When 130 crore people take a pledge, any challenge can be overcome," he said accepting the award here on Tuesday night.

Not just numbers

Mr. Modi said the success of Swachh Bharat was above and beyond any statistics.

cleanliness in their lives.

11 crore toilets

As a result, over 11 crore toilets were built in the country in the past five years, which was a record, he said.

The Prime Minister said if the mission had benefited anyone the most, it was the poor and women. "Only that person who does not have a toilet understands its value, especially women," he said, adding that not having a toilet was among their most tough problems.

He said many young girls had to give up education due to lack of toilets in their schools. "Our daughters wanted to study but due to lack of toilets they were forced to leave their schools and sit at home."

Mr. Modi said it was the responsibility of his government to help the girls and women come out of this situation and it had performed the duty with utmost sincerity.

He expressed satisfaction that the mission was helping save millions of lives. He met Bill Gates and Melinda Gates after the programme.

"PM @narendramodi had a fruitful interaction with @BillGates and @melindagates," the Prime Minister's Office said in a tweet.

Two accounts of Modi-Trump meet

Readouts are hardly ever identical, says Indian official on the discrepancies

SRIRAM LAKSHMAN SUHASINI HAIDAR

Emerging from the Modi-Trump bilateral meeting on Tuesday, the Indian and U.S. sides offered summaries of the meetings that were, in some respects, at variance with one another.

At least two differences between the accounts - one on Afghanistan and the other on terror and Kashmir were substantive.

The Indian account of the meeting, conveyed by Foreign Secretary Vijay Gokhale, said that Afghanistan had not been discussed due to a lack of time. The U.S. administration.

however, said the two countries discussed Afghanistan.

"...Both leaders expressed concerns about the situation in Afghanistan and shared ideas about how to work together to promote security and prosperity in the country," a readout of the meeting from the White House

At the post-bilateral External Affairs Ministry briefing, Mr. Gokhale said the session was split equally between a discussion on terrorism and trade, saying there was "a long discussion on terrorism" in which Mr. Modi had explained "in some detail" the challenges India had faced from terrorism, especially in Jammu & Kashmir, over the past 30 years.

However, there was no mention of terrorism in the White House's readout.

"Additionally, the President encouraged Prime Minister Modi to improve relations with Pakistan and fulfill his promise to better the lives of the Kashmiri people," the reference to Kashmir from the White House's readout said.

"Readouts are hardly ever identical," an External Affairs Ministry official told The Hindu

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT NEW DELHI

The Communist Party of India on Wednesday accused the government of trying to divert people's attention from the unfolding economic downturn. A statement issued at the end of the September 23-24 National Executive meeting, warned of a recession and called for the protection of the democratic rights of the people of Kashmir and of those affected by the National Register of Citizens (NRC) in Assam.

"The manufacturing sector has shown a mere 0.6% growth and if the negative growth in the unorganised sector is taken into account, the GDP growth would be hardly 1% as per experts," the party said.

Corporate sector

The CPI said the downturn could be reversed by boosting the rural economy and by enhancing the purchasing power of the masses. It criticised the government for granting financial benefits to the corporate sector.

"The ill-timed introduction of GST [Goods and Services Tax] and its faulty implementation after the mammoth shock of demonetisation have added fuel to fire, thereby bringing the economy on a downward spiral," the meeting said.

CPI general secretary D. Raja said, "People are being held at gunpoint in Kashmir while the government makes misleading promises about democracy and development in the region."
