BODY NOT NOTIFIED FOR ACADEMIC YEAR 2018-19: JNU CIRCULAR

Vacate students' union room or we will lock it, JNU tells office-bearers as protests break out

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE NEW DELHI. OCTOBER 16

STUDENTS OF the Jawaharlal Nehru University protested Wednesday after the administration, citing legal reasons, asked them to vacate the students' union room by 5 pm Wednesday in order to lock it up. The INUSU, however, staged a sit-in protest at the office from 3:30 pm, preventing the administration from locking it. Students also screened Anand Patwardhan's 'Raam ke Naam' in the office as a mark of protest at night.

In a circular dated October 15, Dean of Students Umesh Kadam said the "JNUSU for the academic year 2018-19 has not been notified by the university due to noncompliance of Lyngdoh Committee Report (LCR)... by the candidates of JNUSU elections 2018-19" and added that "the JNUSU for the academic year 2019-20 is yet to be notified".

"To prevent the misuse of university property, it is decided by the competent authority of the university that the said room shall be locked immediately and the same may be handed over to the INUSU after notification of the same... Therefore, it is directed to all concerned to vacate the room on or before 5.00 pm on 16/10/2019, failing which the concerned authority of the university will double lock the said room. The university will not be responsible for any damage/loss of items housed in the said room." Kadam added. INUSU condemned the notice and said it would fight the "authoritarian measures". "We would like to remind the JNU administration that the JNUSU office is not the personal property of the Dean of Students to allot, it is a symbol of the JNU student community's right to representation and unionise, that is entrusted to the JNUSU," they said in a statement.

The JNUSU staged a sit-in protest at the office Wednesday afternoon. Express

"The JNU administration has, one by one, snatched away our public spaces for democratic debate and dissent, be it our dhabas, or the mess halls that are currently only allotted to the V-C's political front on campus. The JNUSU office has become one of the last spaces where we can organise our meetings and discussions," the JNUSU added.

Kadam, however, said:"If students have blocked the INUSU office from being locked, it's illegal. The office is the property of the university." According to officials, office bearers of the students' union have always been allotted space in the campus since the 1980s. Earlier, the JNUSU office was situated in the old campus, but when Teflas (student activity centre) opened in the current campus sometime during the 90s, the student union was shifted there, where it continues to remain.

The space is used by JNUSU office-bearers for all kinds of meetings, ranging from a student council meeting, organisation meetings, and even meeting with hostel presidents. During the JNUSU elections, the space becomes all the more important, with the Election Committee operating from there. The first press conference, where the JNUSU presidential candidates make their pitch, is also held in the JNUSU office.

Behind the deadlock: Matter of notification

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE NEW DELHI, OCTOBER 16

BEHIND WEDNESDAY'S crisis is the matter of "notification" of the JNU Students' Union. The Dean of Student Umesh Kadam maintains that since the last union was not notified due to violation of Lyngdoh Committee Regulations (LCR), and the current JNUSU is yet to be notified, the office should be locked.

But there's a question mark on the issue of notification of the JNUSU. The controversy began after last September's JNUSU polls.

As per LCR, candidates are required to submit audited accounts of their expenditure within two weeks of declaration of results.

In October last year, Kadam issued a letter saying the bills the four winners submitted were not in proper format, since they did not factor in GST.

The INUSU had said they submitted their bills in the same format since 2012, when the LCR came into effect, and the DoS had never raised a query earlier.

Due to this, the administration did not "notify" the JNUSU all through last year, and refrained from inviting them to Academic Council meetings.

This year, INUSU has not yet been notified due to the case in the Delhi High Court, where two students alleged LCR was not followed during polls.

Men who snatched magistrate's phone held

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE NEW DELHI, OCTOBER 16

WITHIN 24 hours of a Metropolitan Magistrate's mobile phone being snatched from him outside his house in North Delhi Monday night, the iPhone was sold at least twice, said police. On Wednesday, two men were arrested from North West Delhi's Bharat Nagar for allegedly snatching the MM's phone.

On Monday, around 8 pm, Tis Hazari court MM Viplav Dabas was talking on the phone outside his house in North Delhi's Kamla Nagar when two men on a white scooter snatched his Apple iPhone 11 Pro Max, worth over Rs 1 lakh.

"After snatching the phone, the two sold it to a man in Azadpur, who then sold it to a person in Wazirabad. These men have also been arrested," said DCP (North) Monika Bhardwaj.

The main accused include Karan (20) and Raheem (19), and the two others have been identified as Durga Prasad (26) and Muzammil Ahmed (24).

Constable awarded last year accused of looting iewellery from a bank

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE NEW DELHI, OCTOBER 16

A CONSTABLE posted in the North West district, who was in 2018 given an award for being the 'best beat constable', has been arrested by Harvana police for allegedly looting jewellery from a bank in August. According to police, jewellery worth Rs 5 crore was allegedly robbed by armed assailants at a bank in Panipat.

"CCTV footage from the bank allegedly showed the Delhi Police constable carrying out the loot along with the other accused," an officer said.

According to police, the accused hails from Panipat. After the footage of the loot was analysed, Haryana police raided his parents' house. His father and a male relative were arrested a few days ago, and Rs 12 lakh was recovered from them. "The con-

Police said CCTV footage allegedly shows him stealing jewellery worth Rs 5 crore stable had been stationed at the Motor Accident Claims Tribunal Cell for the last few months, but was absent since August without notice," said a police source. Police said he had been in service for a little less than a decade and was given the award last year. "This was when he was posted at Adarsh Nagar police station," said an officer.

In January this year, though, the constable was accused of rape by a woman.

"He was moved to Police Lines as the case was being investigated, and that's when he was moved to the MACT Cell. He had been out on bail since then." an officer said.

Not allowed to join civic body schools, 200 teachers protest

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE NEW DELHI, OCTOBER 16

AROUND 200 people, who were appointed as permanent teachers in MCD schools, protested against the decision of East and South civic bodies to block their induction, outside the East civic body's office at Patparganj Wednesday. Shortlisted candidates for North Delhi Municipal Corporation schools were allowed to join Wednesday.

Yogesh Kumar (25), who was previously a teacher at a Kendriya Vidyalaya in Madhya Pradesh's Jabalpur, said, "They said they can appoint us only after we submit our resignation letter. We don't know what to do now."

Krishna (22), who too quit his job at a Kendriya Vidyalaya, said, "This is sad; so many of us are left without a job." The appointments were blocked after the Central Administrative Tribunal (CAT)

Many protesters said they quit their previous jobs to join MCD schools as permanent teachers. Express ordered revision of the 2018 recruitment exam. The order, however, was revoked Tuesday.

Delhi BJP chief Manoj Tiwari met EDMC additional commissioner Alka Sharma, currently acting as the director of education, and said: "We released an order by the mayor. In this order, we have directed the commissioner of EDMC to allow the candidates to join back as soon as possible... The court has not passed any legal order that can stop the joining of the candidates. This is an oral order, not a written one."

Sharma, however, said: "The SDMC has stopped the induction after learning about the order, and we adopted the same. We are seeking legal opinion..."

At IIC this weekend, event to help reimagine parenting

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE NEW DELHI, OCTOBER 16

IN AN attempt to redefine parenting, a group of experts, including parents, teachers, psycounsellors. chologists, therapists and medical practitioners, will come together under one roof to talk about raising children amid modern challenges faced by parents. IMAG-INE 2019, being organised by the child and mental health institute called Children First, will see conversations around the theme, 'parenting with courage'.

The event will take place at the India International Centre from 9 am to 5 pm on Saturday, and will be open to all.

On the aim of the programme, Shelja Sen, co-founder of Children First, said: "In the present age, parenting has acquired many layers of complexity because of changes prompted by digital media, changes in famceed, and a dwindling sense of community. Many times, parents feel disconnected, and are alienated, criticised and blamed for not being good enough. We want to talk about how important it is to understand parenting from a different perspective. We want to redefine parenting and make people see that it's the society's collective responsibility to raise a child." The institute collaborated with Teamwork Arts to start IMAGINE in 2018. "Last year, the theme was around building an emotionally safe space for children, wherein parents spoke about early childhood. This year, we are talking about neuro diversity, stories of courage, and commitment required by parents. Next year, we will focus on schools, and in 2021, we will have an international event ily structures, pressure to suc- about sharing ideas and practices on making the world emotionally safer for children and the youth, it aims to go a step further this year — by starting a conversation on a call for action to see children as the society's collective responsibility.

People who will speak at the event include Merry Barua, director of Action For Autism, National Centre for Autism; Sanjoy Roy Managing Director of Teamwork Arts; Vidya Reddy, executive director of Tulir Centre for the Prevention and Healing of Child Sexual Abuse; Jagdish Mahapatra, international expert on cyber safety and managing director of CrowdStrike; Arjun Mathur, lead actor in Made in Heaven; Amit Sen, director and co-founder of Children First; Kavita Arora, child and adolescent psychiatrist and co-founder Children First; and Aditi Chaudhary, a mother who lost her child to pulmonary fibrosis which inspired the film, The Sky is Pink.
