The ill-conceived demonetisation and ill-timed rollout of the Goods lenders and borrowers are in trouble.

The slowdown also indicates the failture of the banking system. Of late, the banks found it easier to lend money to NBFCs and microfinance companies than to get their hands dirty by lending to people directly. If banks

RAPES IN CONG RULE

While dubling 'Make in India' of PM Narendra Modi as 'Rape in India' of PM Narendra Modi as 'Rape in India', Congress MP Rahul Gandhi should remember that the Nirbhaya and Ayesha Mera incidents took place during the Congress regime. The atrocities against women have been taking place from time immemorial and several laws have been enacted to protect them. But the perpetrators owing to our tardy judicial system. Politicians should united to take steps to ensure safety of women.

Congress MP Rahul Gandhi's statement that he is not Rahul Savarkar is indeed true, since he is too small a person to compare himself with the freedom fighter Veer Savarkar. Mr Gandhi even in his dreams cannot measure up to the sacrifice of Savarkar who languished in Andaman Cellular Jail for eight years under harshest conditions.

In a democracy, the President might well belong to a party that is opposed by the party in the majority in the legislature and determined to obstruct the President's legislative proposals. In the parliamentary system, the executive flows from the legislature. The Cabinet is, in reality, a committee of the legislature. Its members have to be members of the legislature. Its members have to be members of the or no confidence.

But you cannot possibly have the legislature nominated by the executive. Which is why in the presidential system in any democracy, the legislature is elected separately from an elected President. The result is that while in the parliamentary system the opposition can compite to went move the Primitial of the president of the president impotent by refusing to vote for funds. If no finances are allocated, the President remains in office but is imported to the president president impotent by refusing to vote for funds. Tottenham edge past Wolves

Wolverhampton (United Kingdom), Dec. 15:
Jan Vertonghen's stoppage time header continaround under Jose Mourinho as Spurs
moved up to fifth with a 2lwin at Wolves.
Mourinho's men were largely outplayed at Molineux, but were ruthless with their chances to less with their chances use defeat in 12 games.
Adama Traore's spectacular strike had cancelled out Lucas Moura's early opener before into the top four before Vertonghen stooped to guide home Christan Eriksen's corner.

That speaks volumes for the impact Mourinho has made in less than a month in charge as Tottenham trailed Chelsea and the top four by 12 points when Son Heung-min's drive was beaten away by Rui Patricio but the ball was worked to Moura, who glided into the area before rifling in high from an angle for his third goal in seven games under Mourinho.
