It's official: Oyo sacks 1,000 staff

NEHA ALAWADHI New Delhi, 13 January

yo Group Chief Executive Officer (CEO) Ritesh Agarwal has sent an email to employees stating the company will be trimming staff over the next two weeks.

In the email sent to employees on Monday, the group CEO said, "One of the implications of the new strategic objectives for 2020, is that, like the leadership team, we will reorganise more teams across businesses and functions. And this means that, unfortunately, some roles at Oyo will become redundant as we further tech-enabled drive synergy, enhanced efficiency and remove duplication of effort across businesses or geographies. As a result, we are asking some of our impacted colleagues to move to a new career outside of Oyo.'

According to sources, the number of these employees is 1,000, and the process is under way in most hubs and offices in India.

The exercise will go on through this week and part of next week, the person added. The hotel room booking firm, backed by Softbank, has been on an expansion spree, but has come under fire for its business practices.

An American publication had covered a harassment case, involving an Oyo guest.

Addressing the issue in his letter, Agarwal said the article, "We take all the allegations very seriously and are looking into each and every one of them. We, of course, continue to be subject to regular external audits and where we are making significant investments in compliance, training, and governance that ensure operational consistency and accountability." It was reported last week that Ovo had let go of about 1,200 people from its China business, and an equal number are likely to be asked to leave in India.

The sources quoted above said the overall number of layoffs, including India and international markets (excluding China), would stand at over 1,300.

Agarwal, in his letter, said the company would focus on sustainable growth, operational and customer excellence, profitability and training and Lightspeed Venture Partners.

In December, Oyo's India and South Asia head of a little over a year, stepped down from his role and joined its board of directors.

Earlier, in October, there were also reports about hotel owners being unhappy with Ovo's fee increases. Among all this, there is also pressure from investors to turn profitable.

SoftBank's Vision Fund has so far invested about $1.5 billion in Oyo, which is now believed to be valued at $10 billion. Among Oyo's other investors are Airbnb Inc, Sequoia Capital firm in the world by a player.

Walmart India fires 56 employees as part of restructuring exercise

VIVEAT SUSAN PINTO Mumbai, 13 January The world's largest retailer Walmart has handed pink slips to 56 employees at its India corporate office located in Gurugram, it said on Monday, as slowing consumer spends force retail companies to rejig operations. The employees laid off included eight senior executives and 48 mid and junior executives, Walmart India's President and Chief Executive Officer Krish lyer said, representing 1 per cent of its total workforce of 5,391 people in the country. "We are committed to Only eight growing our B2B cash and carry business in India, We opened executives, six stores and one fulfilment says CEO centre in 2019 and our sales Krish Iver grew 22 per cent during the vear. We are also looking for ways to operate more efficiently, which requires us to review our corporate structure from time to time. As part of this, we have let go of 56 associates across levels," he said.

The employees laid off include those in real estate and sourcing, industry sources said, as Walmart increasingly focuses on its online operations in India. In 2018. Bentonville, Arkansas-based company had acquired a 77 per cent stake in Flipkart for $16 billion, making it the largest purchase of an e-commerce

Since then, Walmart has been consolidating Flipkart's operations and getting into newer areas such as grocery and food retail in a bid to go beyond electronics, fashion and lifestyle for which the Bengalurubased e-tailer is largely known. The move is also intended to help Flipkart fight rival Amazon, which has been investing heavily across segments in the country.

lyer clarified on Monday that there were no further lay-offs on the cards at the company and that it would add stores in the current calendar year, starting with Tirupati in Andhra Pradesh. Walmart, which began its were senior cash and carry operations in 2007 under a joint venture with Bharti Enterprises, has a total of 28 stores under the 'Best Price' brand and three fulfilment centres in Hyderabad, Mumbai and Lucknow, The IV was dissolved in 2013 after Walmart bought Bharti's stake in the firm. lyer said no store or fulfilment centre would shut down in the future and that the company remained committed to expanding its footprint beyond the nine states it currently operated in.

"We have recently made investments in India and will continue to do so. This includes investments in our brick-and-mortar stores as well as e-commerce. We are investing heavily in technology and have a healthy pipeline of Best Price stores," he said.

for BPCL stake

ISHITA AYAN DUTT Kolkata, 13 January

Indian Oil Corporation (IOC) will take a call on bidding for the government's stake in Bharat Petroleum Corporation (BPCL) once it comes to the market, said IOC Chairman Sanjiv Singh.

Singh said it was still not clearly stated what was being proposes to raise ₹1.05 trillion offered. "There are media reports that Numaligarh Refinery rent financial year and BPCL may be carved out. Let it come would be crucial to achieving and then we will see. He was the target speaking on the sidelines of the launch of Purvodaya, an integrated steel hub. He added it was internally discussed and there were advantages either way. If IOC bags it, there are advantages. In the event it doesn't, there would still be advantages and its capital expenditure (capex) would not get saturated. IOC had its own capex plan, which it would then be free to pursue. In November, the Cabinet Committee on Economic Affairs (CCEA) approved the sale of government stake in five major public sector undertakings (PSUs): BPCL, Shipping Corporation of India, Container Corporation of India, THDC India (formerly Tehri Hydro Development Corporation), and Hindustan Petroleum and North Eastern Electric Power Corporation. ## Microsoft goes on hunt for unicorns in tier-II cities

The tech giant's 'Highway to a Hundred Unicorns' start-up programme has selected 54 start-ups from tier-II cities that would get access to a host of biz and tech benefits

PEERZADA ABRAR

Bengaluru, 13 January

Microsoft, the world's biggest software maker, is increasing its efforts to empower the start-up ecosystem in tier -II cities across the country. As part of this initiative, the Redmond, Washington-based firm's 'Highway to a Hundred Unicorns' programme has selected 54 start-ups from Gujarat, Maharashtra, Rajasthan, Kerala and Telangana. Some of them are Spider G, NeuroTags, Genrobotic Innovations, AI Aeronautics, Synersense, Dealshare and NanoHealth.

The top tech start-ups selected through 'Emerge-X', a competition for start-ups, win credits to access Microsoft's cloud computing platform Azure and get a host of business and tech benefits.

The competition has received over 530 applications. The top-three start-ups from each state gain access to a year-long mentorship program and a two-day founder boot camp. 'Highway to a Hundred Unicorns,' the Microsoft for startups initiative, works closely with local governments to strengthen the start-up ecosystem in each state.
