PARA JUMBLED CONCEPTS

INTRODUCTION TO ENGLISH LANGUAGE:

English Knowledge is an important section in the employment-related competitive exams in India. In particular, English Language Section is one of the key sections in recruitment exams in India including but not limited to Banking, Railways, Staff Selection Commission, Insurance, Teaching, UPSC and many others. The English Language section has questions related to Reading Comprehension, Cloze Test, Fill in the Blanks, Error Spotting, Grammar, Sentence Improvement, Para jumbled etc.

1. What are para jumbled?

Para jumbles are jumbled paragraphs. Basically, you are given a paragraph - but the sentences are not in the right order. It's up to you to untie this knot and rearrange the sentences so that they logically make sense. Normally instructions for this type of questions will read "Choose the most logical order of sentences from among the given choices to construct a coherent paragraph".

Para jumbles are the group of independent sentences usually 5 or six, which are altered and presented to us. It is our task to identify which one comes first, then next, and so on until we form a meaningful paragraph.

PARA JUMBLED- RULES

RULE 1: SEARCH FOR THE NAME

Yes, you heard it right. In a group of sentences, some sentences start with the name of a person. If you see the name of a person, chances are high that, it would be the first sentence but not every time. So if you see the name of a person, boldly eliminate the other sentences.

Example:

- He was looking forward to start the business.

RULE 2: Search for the connecting words

If you see a sentence that start with connecting words such as and, but, then and some words, then we can be 100% sure that it must not be the first sentence.

Example:

- And, it has been in very good way to store the vegetables.

RULE 3: USAGE OF ARTICLES

Articles are of a great use in Para jumbles. The articles 'a' and 'an' are indefinite articles whereas the article 'the' is called definite article. When these articles are used in the beginning, they are great to start a passage.

EXAMPLES:

- A boy and his friend were playing in the garden.

Rule 4: USAGE OF PRONOUNS

Pronouns such as "he, she, they, it, him, her" are a great use for identifying the sentences in Para jumbles. The pronouns act as a great guide for Para jumbles. The pronouns denote the person who has been already introduced.

Examples:

- They gathered the death certificates from the parents, going back as many years as they could.

RULE 5: THE SECRET OF ELIMINATION METHOD

One of the last resort in Para jumble is the rule of elimination method and this is the best method to solve a Para jumble.

- One day a wealthy merchant sent his son's bicycle to the shop for repair.

PARA JUMBLED- TRICKS

Trick 1: Identify the opening sentence

The first thing that you need to do is to identify the opening sentence of the paragraph. If you can do that, then you will be able to fix at least one sentence in its position. The opening sentence generally introduces you to the topic.

Trick 2: Identify the closing sentence

The second step is to identify the sentence with which the paragraph could possibly close. This is actually a logical extension of the above point only and forms a continuation of the same.

Trick 3: Identify mandatory pairs

One of the most important methods to solve a para-jumble is to identify mandatory pairs. These are basically groupings which will occur in a defined order. Once you identify such pairs, all you need to do is co-relate them with the answer options, voila, your question is solved.

Trick 4: Identifying transition words

Transition words imply a shift from one idea to another in a paragraph. They function like logical connectors in sentences. Observing the transition words found in a sentence will lead you to the correct mandatory pair for the question. In fact, that is the role of transition words, to help you in identifying mandatory pairs.

Trick 5: Identify pronoun antecedents

Following are some of the personal pronouns that are used: he, she, it, him, her, they, you, your, etc. Personal pronouns always refer to a person, place or thing etc. Therefore, the use of personal pronoun in a sentence can imply that the person or thing being referred to was mentioned in a previous statement. This can provide you with important mandatory pairs.

PARA JUMBLED- SAMPLES QUESTIONSTYPE 1:

- A. This includes looking after the children and doing all of the housework, which is fairly labor-intensive.
- B. A stereotype that has existed a long time is that females ought to stay home, taking care of the family once they got married.

Which of the following should be the fifth sentence in the paragraph?

- A. A
- B. B
- C. C
- D. D
- E. E

Answer:A

Explanation:

One of the most conspicuous trends of today's world is a colossal surge in the number of such vehicle accidents as cars, trucks and buses, all over the world, be it in impoverished or developed nations. There is a wide range of factors that account for why this is happening. This situation could be remedied, provided some effective measures are taken. Measures to deal with this soaring concern are many; the most significant ones are not remote or complicated but accessible and practicable. The primary one lies in the fact that governments should take a firm stance and apply stringent rules and regulations to lower the speed limit.
